Dear Mr. Andrews:

The Construction Equipment Maintenance Association would like to take this opportunity to thank you for the informative presentation last month at our November meeting. The presentation you put forth covered a wealth of topics relating to health and injury prevention. You illustrated several points about how some of our seemingly innocuous choices can lead to orthopedic problems now and in the future. None of us has the time or interest to be hurt and out of work. You did a fantastic job with both your delivery and with your style of presentation. The group appreciated your efforts very much.

You covered a great segment on risk factors in our day to day work cycle that can cause immediate and lasting injury and how to make better choices to avoid such injury. Some of us had no idea we were causing any harm to our bodies by climbing on and off the equipment the way we do. You emphasized how important it is to plan your health for later in life and changes we can make to assist in that. All the suggestions were quite informative.

Lastly, your topic covering the history and strains of the flu was quite timely for our group as that new H1N1 strain is upon us. The wealth of information you presented to our group on that topic was tremendous. You gave some interesting perspective to the group about the virus. Most of us didn't realize the H1N1 virus had been around for 100 yrs. Again, your information was timely and informative.

We appreciate you taking time from your busy schedule to provide us with such an in-depth and thorough presentation on our well-being and how we can and keep ourselves healthier. We would welcome you back in the future and wish you the best of success in your new venture for 2010 and beyond.

Sincerely
